

Seven ways to improve your search with Google this is a topic that came about from conversation someone was saying that they wish they were better at Google search and I said hey that would be a good topic for the Guy R Cook Report so here we are looking at seven ways to improve your search with Google now I've put this podcast episode onto YouTube as well under the same title seven ways to improve your search with Google 2018 10 16 that's a good clue it'll be this date the other day when I first saw this I prepared this episode of the Guy R Cook report by going to time.com and having to look at the video they've got there for seven tricks to master google search we're gonna look at that right now seven tricks to master google search what they've done is they've put together a list of how it happens and so let's see what they've got tip number one use quotation marks to search for a phrase instead of separate words so that if you want a specific thing use a minus sign to ignore a word yeah well that makes sense having cookie recipes but without chocolate chip well I don't know if that's a good idea of it search privately without IP address and location tracking and to do that you use a private browse window your browser should have that track packages without going to the carriers site so if you're looking for a FedEx package that's how you do it use an asterisk to find a word you can't remember like a wild-card search and number six look for similar sites so you type related : and then the search phrase that you're about and at last tip is fine just using Google Images this is saved a lot of time and the times I've used it and there you have it and a big thanks to the patrons that make the Guy R Cook Report possible and I hope that you've got some sort of a pearl from this oyster called the Guy R Cook report we'll see you tomorrow.

It's a wrap.
